still very popular personally, but her use it is that has grown vastly in isfavor. And thereby hangs this tale: At one stage of the contest, in which early all the pretty school-mistresses the villages within a goodly radius of ort Jefferson took part. Miss Miller's rospect was by no means promising. To dispel the cloud of threatened defeat a syndicate of guillant Port Jeffersonians was organized, with sufficient capital in each and promises to "meet the enemy and rout him."

Miss Miller's victory was celebrated by music, oratory and a supper, under the auspices of the King's Daughters of the place. In the course of these festivities Miss Miller was presented with the rold watch, and was culosized by Rev. M. Shackelton, of the Methodist Church, and by ex-Judge John R. Reid, of Babyon, who represented the paper which had gotten up the contest.

The rejoicings over, the young galants, who had contributed promises to the fund, were called upon to materialize their pledges. When they found that sach would have to make the ghostwalk to the tune of £10, a how! went Jp. the echo of which is still resounding in Port Jefferson, and the young gendlemen will not be comforted until they are made to understand why a fund was necessary which would have carried through, in addition, three Aidermen to success in a political campaign.

AFRAID OF THE PEST HOUSES.

Citizens Demand Their Remova from the Jall Yard.

from the Jail Tard.

NG ISLAND CITY, Feb. 27.—There are no new cases of typhus fever respected to-day among the prisoners in the Queens County Jail. Of the ten prisoners down with the disease all are reported to be doing well. There have been no more deaths.

The residents of Pierson street, which is directly back of the Jail, are protesting against the pest-houses which have been erected in the jail yard. They talk of sending a petition to the local Boal of Health asking the Board to ake prompt steps to protect them from being exposed to typhus.

They claim that it is an outrage on the citizens of Long Island City to erect the pest-house in the jail-yard, and say that the typhus patients should be conveyed to a place on the outskirts of the city.

Benry Hansen Held for Requisition by New Jersey.

Henry X. Hansen, a bright-faced groung man, was arraigned in the Lee Avenus Police Court. Williamsburg, 10- any, and held until the New Jersey authorities can secure requisition papers. The specific charge against Hansen is obbling the drug store of foliver & Dra'ce, 500 Magnulla girect. Elizabeth, where is was employed as clerk. The detectives who made the arrest claim that Hansen has rebbed a dozen or more thanks in the court foliver with scheme resing to obtain employment and decamp it the first favoratile opportunity, with it the spare cash he could secure. Hansen withinted his guilt when cought to court to-day, and expressed willingness to return to New Jersey ithout requisition papers.

The court recently awarded Parshley School. Ex-Judge Reynfids took an appeal, and Lawyer Stafford, for Parshley, moved that the appeal be set aside.
